Composed in 1880, within a set of songs called the "Gypsy Songs," Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me" is one of the most famous and beloved songs of the set. Its memorable melody is both sad and optimistic. The texts used in this collection are poems written by Adolf Heyduk in Czech, then translated into German.

My mother is not a professional singer, but she loved to sing and knew a lot of songs!
There is a particular tradition of singing to children in our country, much stronger, I would say, than one sees any more in the West. It was really important that in each family these songs would be handed down,
